Friends recall Owca

Former school financial chief dies at age 59

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Norman Owca of Granite City, the retired director of finance for the Granite City School District and former chairman of the Belleville Area College Board of Trustees, died Friday morning at St. Mary's Health Center in St. Louis.

Owca was "a person of tremendous character and honesty" who helped bring the district through its worst financial crisis in the 1980s, said Granite City School Superintendent Steve Balen.

Balen said Owca became finance director at the time the district was entering an extremely rocky period, which included closing several school buildings and major budget cuts.

"He had to bring the news to the board that the district was $8 million in debt and couldn't borrow any more from the bank," Balen said. "He was chief fiscal officer through probably its worst crisis."

Balen described Owca as "extremely frugal and conservative." "We used to kid him that he acted like the school district's money was his own," he said.

Owca, 59, graduated from Southern Illinois University Carbondale in 1962 and received a master's degree

Council approves rezoning

Residents pack meeting, deplore decision

By Mike Heil
Staff writer

Development east of Maryville Road received a boost from aldermen when Granite City Council approved the rezoning of a small tract of land there from R-3 residential to C-6 commercial with C-1 commercial usage during its meeting Tuesday night.

The council voted 8-5 to approve the rezoning. Those who opposed the controversial rezoning were Seventh Ward Aldermen Kim MacTaggart and Bob Cook, Third Ward Alderman Nick Petrillo, First Ward Alderman Bob Page and Sixth Ward Alderman Sandy Shaw.

Those in favor were First Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish, Second Ward Aldermen Craig Tarpo and Jim Miller, Fourth Ward Aldermen Foster "Freddie" Frederick and Leo Wofford, Fifth Ward Aldermen Eddie Asadorian and Lurion Pulley and Sixth Ward Alderman Mac Warfield. Third Ward Alderman Pat Davis was not in attendance.

The rezoning is light commercial, which will allow developers to build a proposed bank on the site. Any type of construction, however, must be approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission before being sent to the council for final approval.

The tract entails 5.51 acres, stretches 300 feet behind Maryville Road and is located between Irwin Chapel and Tri-City Assembly of God church.

The decision was quite obviously a popular one for developers, but for residents who live close to the site, it was a nightmare with visions of increased water drainage problems, traffic, noise pollution and safety concerns.

"I want all of Granite City residents who use Maryville Road to know where they proposed to build is the lowest-lying area along Maryville. Where is the water going to go?" said Debra Webb, who lives on Village Lane, which is near the site.

Webb was one of a little more than 100 people living in the area who attended the fiery meeting. At one point, Granite City Mayor Ron Selph slammed his gavel several times and declared he would

Crouch fate due Friday

Pontoon panel hears evidence for six hours

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

A decision on the fate of Pontoon Beach Police Capt. Michael Crouch is expected to be handed down Friday evening. The Pontoon Beach Board of Police Commissioners is expected to announce its decision at a meeting set for 8 p.m. Friday at the Pontoon Beach Village Hall.

That board met for almost six hours in executive session to hear evidence on 16 separate charges brought against Crouch by Police Chief Gary Wallace.

Crouch has been accused of removing and altering vacation and other logs from the department; selective enforcement of the law by singling out individuals due to personal dislike for them or their family; attempting to coerce officers into supporting former Mayor Glen Wilson in the April elections; failing to meet with

Speedway crash injures young fan

8-year-old suffers skull fracture; vows to return to track, race car

By Michael Heil
Staff writer

A South Roxana child injured Saturday evening in a crash at Tri-City Speedway may come home today, according to his father, Terry Chester.

"He's doing 100 percent better," Chester said. "He's almost back to being himself. In the last 24 hours, there has been a complete turnaround."

Caleb Chester, 8, was leaning on a restraining wall close to his parents when a car went out of control on the half-mile dirt track, located next to Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus, and struck a light pole connected to the wall.

The impact knocked Caleb through the air. He landed a short distance away, fracturing his pelvis and skull.

Caleb was taken to SSM Cardinal Glennon Hospital in St. Louis, where he was listed in serious condition Sunday in intensive care. His condition was upgraded Tuesday to stable, according to a nurse on Caleb's floor.

3 juveniles confess to starting Friday blaze

Second fire damages Coolidge room

By Mike Heil
Staff writer

Three children who confessed to starting the fire that gutted a carpet store in Granite City could be required to take fire prevention classes, be put on probation or charged by juvenile authorities.

"The reports and petitions have been sent to juvenile authorities," said Detective Jeff Parker of the Granite City Police Department.

"They will decide what recourse to take." The girls are between the ages of 7 and 9 and all live within a block of Granite City

Carpet City, 2701 Nameoki Road, where the fire gutted the business at an estimated cost of $200,000.

Authorities believe the girls were playing with matches in the rear of the building when the fire broke out. They tried to put it out by throwing dirt and bricks on the flames.

After realizing their actions were futile, they ran in fear. The fire quickly spread, taking 25 firefighters almost 45 minutes Friday afternoon to curtail the blaze. In that span, one firefighter received a knee injury from a falling wall, another received second-degree burns to the forearm

See FIRES, Page 3A

Granite City firefighters spray water on the burning remains of Granite City Carpet on Nameoki Road during Friday evening's fire, which gutted the store. Three juveniles have confessed to accidentally starting the fire and are awaiting possible action by juvenile authorities. The fire was one of two that broke out in the course of a few hours Friday; an unrelated fire broke out in a music room at Coolidge Middle School, causing some damage, but leaving no injuries.

KidCare program remains a secret

Program provides needed health insurance to low-income families

By Jay Hoffman

No single issue is more important to the well-being of our children than proper health care and adequate health insurance. Many working families fall through the cracks because their employers may not offer health insurance or the premiums are too expensive. In response the state has implemented a program called KidCare. I have written about the program in the past in an effort to help publicize the benefits.

KidCare is a state-provided health insurance program designed to help families with limited income. The biggest problem with KidCare is that not enough people know about it. While the program has been in existence for more than a year, only 33,000 of the 191,000 eligible children are currently enrolled.

Families with incomes up to 133 percent of the federal poverty level or $22,211 for a family of four are eligible for the program. A family of four earning up to $30,895 is eligible for benefits with some co-payments or premiums required.

This session the General Assembly passed several measures designed to educate more families about the benefits of KidCare. House Bill 1399 requires the Department of Public Aid to develop procedures to allow youth service agencies, employers, labor unions, local chambers of commerce and religious organizations to assist in enrolling children in the KidCare program. Another important measure, House Bill 1732, will allow community providers and schools to act as sites to enroll children. Both of these measures were recently signed into law.

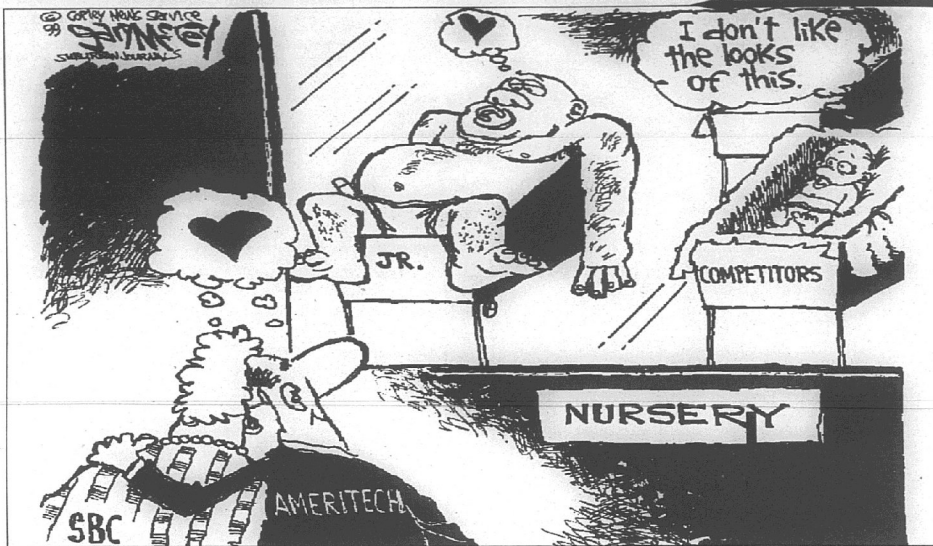

Pregnant women also qualify for KidCare. The importance of prenatal care is well documented. Not only will prenatal care avoid long-term health problems for both mother and child and save money - it's the right thing to do. That's why we have an obligation to help spread the word about this worthy program.

If you have any specific questions about the KidCare program you can call Public Aid at (800) 226-0788. Or, as always, feel free to contact me at one of my constituent service offices.

My Collinsville office is located at 126 Vandalia, suite 1. The office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, Wednesday evenings from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Our Collinsville office phone number is 345-2176.

Our Edwardsville office is located in the Hays-Mallory Community Building at 216 Crane. Edwardsville's office hours are from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Friday afternoon. We also have a Swansea office located at 4505 N. Illinois St. (State Route 159). Swansea office hours can be arranged by appointment.

Libraries offer rare experience opportunities

By Barbara Rhodes

"The public library has been historically a vital instrument of democracy and opportunity in the United States. Our history has been greatly shaped by people who read their way to opportunity and achievements in public libraries." Arthur Meier Schlesinger (1885-1965)

Libraries are the rare and unique opportunity to experiment without buying. No other service today gives the unequaled loan of the most diverse assortment of materials to be handled by the public with more than displaying of simple card. How many thousands of dollars worth of items are at your disposal to be taken to your homes on just your promise that you will return them?

If you have not used your right to step inside your library building and experiment with your power to use this matchless service, you have somehow missed an unforgettable experience.

Go to your library today and experience the secret which has kept libraries vital and enduring throughout the centuries. It is your inherited right. It is your depository of the past, present and future. Put it on your list of errands to do today or tomorrow.

We have a suggestion basket at the library and we always encourage people to add their thoughts on how we can improve the facility. Recently, a couple of suggestions have entered the box that were fairly vague. One said, "You need more books!" and the other said, "I never seem to find what I want when I come in this place." These requests probably are very legitimate statements, but, unfortunately, do not leave a person with enough detail. What type of books would we need to have a better collection of books? If you could not find what you needed in the library, did you ask the front desk staff for help? We encourage your input into your library, but please give us enough detail to be able to make a difference in what you noticed as a potential problem.

 "Hannibal" by Thomas Harris

I found the book fascinating. Amazingly, I wound up rooting for "Hannibal the Cannibal," and booing some of his victims! Seriously, the books contained surprises at every turn of the page. I won't spoil the ending but, Clarice, the FBI agent, who used Hannibal Lecter to catch another serial killer in the previous book Silence of the Lambs, developed an unusual relationship with him during the course of a new investigation. Trust me, you'll never look at a pork chop the same way again. I give a four star rating!!!!

Recent reference questions that you may have wondered about:

How can you get recorded books and magazines for people who are blind or visually impaired?

The Mid-Illinois Talking Book Center provides books on tape and special equipment free of charge. They are located in Quincy and will mail items directly to your home. Their phone number is 1-800-537-1274. An application to participate in the service is available at the library and your physician or the librarian can verify your disability.

Do you have a typewriter that I can use at the library? We sure do. You can type on a typewriter or you can type into a word processor (either Microsoft Word or WordPerfect) at no charge. Printing does cost 10 cents per sheet. We also have 10 public access computers loaded with Internet and reference databases and a microfilm reader/printer for your convenience.

Children's Corner
 By Ginny York
 Youth Services Librarian
 Hey, all you Frindle fans, Andrew Clements has come out with a new book called "The Landry News." It takes place in school and the controversy centers around a newspaper. Clements' characters are real, none too good or too bad to be believable. A book of fresh starts, it was entertaining and educational as the class learns about the Bill of Rights and the proper way to fight when those freedoms are threatened. It's a delightful book.

A frequent question by parents: I have a toddler and I want to do everything I can to ensure he becomes a good reader. What are some things that I can do now?

First of all, READ to him. If he sees that you enjoy reading he will have a positive attitude about doing the same. Small children love to imitate, so they will copy that behavior. Interact with him about the stories you read. The Children's Library has several video tapes by the Illinois Secretary of State called "Read Together, Grow Together," which gives a lot of ideas on how to make reading come alive.

Also, get involved in the activities we make available at the library so that he learns to associate the library as an important part of his life and reading becomes part of the fun things to do in his spare time.

You must live feverishly in a library. Colleges are not going to do any good unless you are raised and live in a library everyday of your life."

—Ray Douglas Bradbury (b. 1920)

Grandparents fill special family role

Children who live far away from grandparents miss something special

By Mary Buettner

It's been nearly three years since my Grandpa passed away. At the time of her death, I thought I'd miss her most on her birthday, especially those years when her birthday falls on Thanksgiving Day. It turns out that this is the time of year when I miss her most.

Grandma had a difficult start in life. She lost both her mother and twin sister to illnesses of the era by the time she was 12-years-old. Hard work was her way of life; she took care of other people's children and worked in the mushroom factory, among other jobs. I remember her washing and ironing shirts for a neighborhood gentleman when she was well into her 70s.

She was 67 when I was born, but she had the energy of a 40-year-old. This time of year we'd spend much of the day in her garden. I thought she grew the prettiest flowers and best vegetables around. She gave me a love for flowers and for growing things that I'll never lose.

In the winter she spent time sewing and crocheting. I took up sewing toward the end of her life, but by that time she was too tired to teach me many of her tricks. My aunts gave me her old sewing machine after her death; it sits in my sewing room next to mine.

Grandma was the principal babysitter of my siblings and me. She was a strict disciplinarian and tolerated no fighting among us kids. When she and Grandpa needed to discuss something they didn't want us to hear, they spoke in German. We kids pestered her to teach us German words so we could catch other names in a different language.

When we became sick at school, the principal knew to call grandma. And we were older and could stay by ourselves, she'd call on us to check on us at the first rumble of thunder. When she got older, it was us who called and checked on her.

Grandma loved kids. Occasionally I meet one of her former charges who would tell me how much fun it was to spend time with my grandma. Like me, they remember her being busy with work around the house, and also the cookie baking and other fun things she did. She taught them the same lesson she taught us: first we work and then we play.

One of her greatest and last joys was the birth of her great-granddaughter 100 years after her own birth. When my sister brought Laura Cate to Grandma's house, Grandma would ask, "Is this the one that's named after me?"

She was certainly a strong and loving presence in the lives of her grandchildren. She knew how to do things to make each of us feel special, like planting a patch of larkspurs in her yard in honor of my July birthday.

Children who grow up without grandparents or with grandparents who are too ill or too far away to spend time with them have missed out on one of life's greatest gifts.

Mary Buettner lives in Waterloo and practices law there.

Letter to the editor

Accident calls up a big question

TO THE EDITOR:
 I could not believe what I saw. I was traveling home from work at 1:45 a.m. Aug. 25, when I saw numerous emergency vehicles ahead.

There was what appeared to have been a very serious accident involving at least two cars.

As I approached the scene, my attention was diverted from the mangled cars to the responding emergency vehicles. My thought at first was another night of sleepless, dedicated Mitchell firemen doing their patriotic job. But this time it was different.

Instead of men who jump to the sound of a piercing pager and out the door and to the station within a minute or two, I see a familiar fire truck not of Mitchell but of Granite City. Now one may wonder what is the big deal? Are not these men capable of their profession? Most certainly they are. But stop and think as I did. How would you feel if it were you sitting there trapped, hurt, mangled and in dire need of medical help? You see a fire station within sight but no one is responding. Times like these, for those who have not been there, seconds seem like hours. You look and you look and you wait but no movement from that station in sight. Finally help has arrived and you are grateful, if you are conscious or still alive.

It seems wrong for one to have to wait for what may be his or her last chance at life all because of a political power of injustice (annexations).

Mitchell, we need to wake up and fight for what is right. One never knows, some day you or a loved one may face the same circumstance. Only this time, the truck may be coming from Edwardsville, Hartford, South Roxana or who knows where.

This could be your last choice: either by ambulance or by hearse.

gency call in a "condescending and disrespectful" manner; and physically assaulting Madison County Board Member Don Rea on July 14. The charges came just a few weeks after Crouch, who was police chief under Wilson, filed a defamation lawsuit against members and supporters of the New Beginnings Party and a separate small-claims suit seeking back pay from the village.

The Police Board met for almost six hours in executive session Aug. 30 to hear evidence on the case.

Village Attorney Eric Evans said he has not been officially informed of their decision, but "word on the street" was that they would impose a 10-day suspension on Crouch.

"I think this matter will be resolved one way or the other," Evans said.

Tri-City Speedway crash injures young fan

Caleb, a third-grader at South Roxana Elementary School, is a racing fan and racer. He's been zipping around the track in quarter-midget sprint cars for three years.

Despite his injury, Chester said his son is eager to get back on the track.

"He asked me if he could race in the (quarter-midget) fun race in October," said Chester, who was talking to Caleb all morning Tuesday as they watched television.

Caleb will not require surgery. However, doctors told Terry Chester and his wife, Diane, that Caleb will need much time to recover with the use of crutches.

Tri-City Speedway is a long-standing racing facility in the area. It currently hosts sprint and stock cars and is the local home of the NASCAR Winston Racing Series, which determines a national champion driver in Late Model divisions from local tracks throughout the country.

The track has been a fixture on the local auto racing scene for many years and has helped develop several top-name drivers, including Winston Cup drivers Rusty Wallace and Ken Schrader.

and another was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for heat exhaustion.

The most serious injury occurred to veteran firefighter Ken Prazma, who was hospitalized at the medical center for several days with a toe injury.

"Usually, we get minor injuries with the type of fire that occurred Friday, but nothing as serious as the injury to Ken," said Granite City Fire Chief Keith Talley.

In an unrelated fire that occurred Friday evening at Coolidge Middle School, 3231 Nameoki Road, damage to the choir room was estimated in the neighborhood of $50,000.

According to a fire report, it is listed as suspicious.

Owca fondly remembered by friends, colleagues

from Murray State University in Kentucky in 1966. He started in education in 1967 as a business teacher in the Collinsville School District. In 1967, he came to Granite City High School as a business teacher. He eventually became a department head and director of business affairs for the district and was appointed director of finance in 1986, a position he held until retiring in 1995. He was also a business consultant for the Normandy School District in north St. Louis County. Owca was appointed chairman of the BAC Board in 1998. Under his leadership, BAC's Granite City Campus underwent major renovations; the Industrial Training Center at GCC grew rapidly; and the college received funding for and began construction on new buildings at the Belleville and Red Bud campuses. During his four years with the BAC board, Owca was known for his honesty, leadership, and his "dedicated efforts" in bringing quality education to southwestern Illinois residents, said BAC President Elmer Kirchoff. "Norm was truly a believer in the benefits of a community college education and all the opportunities BAC provides students," Kirchoff said. "We are saddened by this loss to his family and to Belleville Area College."

Owca was born in Granite City and was a member and elder at First United Presbyterian Church in Collinsville. He is survived by his wife, Sharon; two daughters, Sherri Ferguson of Collinsville and Terri Greathouse of Edwardsville; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were at Irwin Chapel in Granite City, and burial was in Sunset Hill Memorial Estates in Edwardsville.

Memorials may be made to First United Presbyterian Church or the Norman Owca Grandchildren's College Fund.

Message To Our Water Customers

Over the next two weeks, you may notice a slight, temporary change in the taste or odor of your tap water. It's no reason to worry.

Your water remains high quality and healthy.

On September 1, Illinois-American Water Company's East St. Louis and Granite City water treatment plants started their annual "free chlorine" flushing program. The maintenance program is conducted each fall and lasts approximately two weeks.

Our "free chlorine" flushing program prevents accumulation of nitrates in the water system and ensures continued delivery of high-quality water to our customers.

The program simply involves using a different form of chlorine in the water treatment process. We usually use chloramine, which is chlorine mixed with ammonia. Over the next two weeks, we will be using "free chlorine" which does not contain ammonia. At the end of the two-week program, both plants will switch back to chloramine.

Both free chlorine and chloramine are disinfectants commonly used by many water treatment plants. Water users can become accustomed to either form of chlorine. Chlorine may be more noticeable when a treatment plant switches from one form to another. We are not adding more chlorine to your water; just a different form of chlorine for two weeks only.

to common questions
from our customers:

* There is no need to boil water, purchase a water filter, or purchase bottled water. You can let some drawn tap water set a few hours and refrigerate. This will allow much of the chlorine to leave the water.

* Your baby's formula is fine. Continue mixing it with tap water.

* As with any flushing program, brief periods of discolored water are possible. This discoloration is residue that has settled into the bottom of the water main. If discoloration occurs, let your water run for a few minutes and it will clear up.

* Plumbing is not affected in your home or business.

* There's no effect on the pH balance of the water or the fluoride added to the water.

Granite City extends unbeaten streak

Lets lead slip away in tie vs. Vianney

By Rick Broome

Granite City had one of the area's most storied soccer teams on the ropes Saturday.

The Warriors held a 2-0 halftime lead over Kirkwood (Mo.) Vianney, but the Griffins came back late to tie the game and send both sides home unsatisfied.

Richie Edwards got the Warriors on the board in the 15th minute of play. "We had great pressure when Rich scored," Granite City head coach Gene Baker said. "Rich got a tap-in, but there was a lot of pressure work from the whole team on that play. Rich worked hard on the play to get open and finished well."

Junior striker Mike Smith increased the Warriors' lead with 10 minutes to play in the first half.

"The second goal was a dandy," Baker said. "Jay Gensert crossed it, and Mike beats a player one-on-one and shoots it from maybe 14 or 15 yards out dead in the corner."

"Mike played the best half of soccer he has ever played for us. It was just flawless. He moved off the ball, he played hard, he made the good shot, and they made a couple of good saves on him. If we get that from him every game, it will be fun."

But the Griffins did not give up. David Buchek scored in the tenth minute of the second half and netted the equalizer with 12 minutes left in the game.

"I thought in the first half we came out and played really hard, the way we were supposed to," Edwards said. "In the second half, we came out pretty slow. We started to pick it up, but we made some mistakes and they just got two quick goals. Overall I thought we played pretty well."

Baker noticed the shift as well.

"In the first half, we definitely had control of the run of play," he said. "In the second half, they had the better of the game. Justin made some good saves, but we missed one, a 5-footer, on a long throw-in from Jay (McMillan) to Rich, and he missed a far-post head with one minute to go. But Rich played very well."

The tie ended the Warriors' winning streak at two games to start the season. However, Baker thought his team logged a good showing.

"They are a good team," Baker said. "Quatrochi and Buchek are good players, so the kids played well. Jeremy Hickam played very well again, so I am awfully pleased with him in the backfield. Phil Reader covered Quatrochi and stopped him. It was an ice-breaker for Chad Briggeman, who is a very

Defending SWC champs post 6-1 win vs. Alton in '99 conference opener

The defending Southwestern Conference champions opened this year's conference schedule the way they ended 1998.

Granite City scored three times in each half en route to a 6-1 blustering of Alton at Gordon Moore Park Tuesday night.

Senior Josh Peacher got the Warriors on the board midway through the first half. Jeremy Hickam curled a corner kick into the box and Peacher went prone to knock a header high into the twine.

"It came off a nice, beautiful pass from Phil Reader," Edwards said. "I put it up over the goalie. It was a pretty nice play I think. Phil made a great play to get me the ball. Teamwork got us the play, and I finished it like I should have."

Junior Mike Smith closed out the first-half scoring when he turned a touch pass from Reader into a side-footed flick that beat the keeper.

Edwards got his second on a beautiful, swerving chip shot that embarrassed the Alton goalie.

Warriors face tough task in taming Tigers

GCHS to play defending league champs without services of senior quarterback

By Rick Broome
Staff writer

Granite City High will have to tame the Tigers this Friday without their ringmaster.

Senior quarterback Zack May separated his right (throwing) shoulder in the Warriors' 29-20 loss to Jerseyville last Friday and will miss this week's game against defending Southwestern Conference champion Edwardsville.

"It was a partial separation," Granite City coach Nick Petrillo said. "Right now he is in some pain, but the separation has already had a change in just the last couple of days. He is a hard-working kid and he is working hard to rehabilitate it. We think it could be two or possibly three weeks until he is ready to be back."

Jon Franko, a junior, stepped in behind center last week after May's injury.

"Jon is a competitor and he'll rise up to the challenge," Petrillo said. "He is going to do a good job. He did a good job that night. He was a little bit concerned, a little bit shaken, since it was his first varsity appearance. But now he is going to go into his first varsity start and he is going to be fine. He has had a good week of practice, things are going well, and we expect that he will do a fine job."

Franko and the Warriors will have possibly their sternest test of the season on Friday night at Edwardsville. The Tigers, who were unbeaten in the regular season last year, have won their first two ballgames by a combined total of 95-18.

"They are a big, strong team," Petrillo said.

"When you walk up against them, you will probably think you are up against a small college team. They are tall across the front, they have speed across the front, they have quickness. They are a strong team, they are physical."

"You don't even need to talk about (halfback Joe) Bevis. Everybody knows how good he is. They have a tailback that everybody should know about now too in Travis Evans. He can run like a deer. He has some speed and he runs with some authority. Their quarterback (Matt Alarica) has been there for three years now. He's a strong runner, very quick. He is a heady ballplayer, he has a good sense of field awareness, and he is just an outstanding player."

Evans was the Tigers' leading rusher last season and has scored seven touchdowns in the first two games - against Chicago Gage Park and St. Louis Naval Jr. ROTC. Bevis, also a standout linebacker, rushed for more than 2,000 yards in his sophomore and junior seasons. Edwardsville's running attack follows behind one of the Metro East's top linemen in Nick Tarpoff.

Collinsville squad still seeking first victory

Kahoks meet Belleville West in contest of winless SWC teams

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

With the third week of the 1999 high school football season looming, Friday night's battle between Collinsville High and Belleville

West will be a significant game for both teams.

The winless squads square off 7:30 p.m. at Kahok Stadium in the Southwestern Conference opener for both teams.

Belleville West is trying to snap an 11-game losing streak, dating back to a win in the 1997 season finale against Collinsville. The Kahoks, meanwhile, are trying to return to form of last year, when they made the IHSA playoffs and finished with an 8-2 record.

"I'm sure it is going to be a battle because Belleville West always is," Collinsville coach Tim Kane said.

"Their kids play hard. Their kids are pretty aggressive. I'm sure it will be a battle from that standpoint. Obviously, Belleville West is trying to get their first victory for Coach (Dennis) Snep. I'm sure they are going to come in here with quite a bit of confidence and feel this is a good opportunity for them."

"There is a lot of reasons this is going to be a battle. It is just a matter of us having the same attitude and excitement going into this game because it is a conference game. Who knows how they will react if we put some points on the board early with them having two losses already? Our kids have to come into the game hungry and aggressive."

Snep didn't expect miracles when he took the helm of the Maroons last 27 years as defensive coordinator at Belleville East. He is more concerned with cultivating a winning attitude at Belleville West.

"Tim is in a little bit different situation than we are," Snep said. "We are still building our program and our attitude. We're still fixing things. We concentrating on ourselves and not a lot about our opponents. We have to get a whole lot better."

One key for Belleville West is sophomore running back Guillermo Davis, who has been the Maroons' leading rusher thus far. He rushed for 92 yards in the opening 34-20 loss to O'Fallon and scored on a kickoff return in that game.

"Guillermo is getting better every time he touches the ball," Snep said. "He's still learning. He's learning quickly. He's one of the few players that come along when you're coaching

See KAHOKS, Page 2B

Sports

Kahoks, Maroons meet in contest of winless SWC teams

Not so much fun for opponents, however.

"Davis is pretty quick and pretty shifty," Kane said. "They run the toss with him quite a bit, a little option and obviously the counter-trey there. They have a variety of ways they are going to try to get him the ball. He's pretty fast kid who likes to get outside. We'll have to contain him just like we did to the kid from CM."

"He definitely has break-away speed. He is a kid we need to get to and get a lot of guys on him. As a sophomore, hopefully if we get some good hits on him and heat to him early, maybe that will slow him down a little bit later in the game."

Collinsville also is concerned with the passing game of Maroons quarterback Chris Davis. The Kahoks have been victimized by the long pass in each of their first two games.

Kane believes the Kahoks can adjust to that. However, "The defense just has to be somewhat familiar with the passing game and have an idea of where the receivers are going to be and what routes they are going to run and be able to break on the football," Kane said. "For the most part, we have had people in the right places. It is just a matter of breaking on the football faster and getting there quicker than we have in the first two weeks."

Offensively, the Kahoks have moved the ball but have not broken the big plays which were part of the eight-game winning streak that opened 1998. The longest touchdown play so far has been a 32-yard pass from quarterback Derek LeMaster to Jake Barrows.

"We are telling them we are just a few things away from being very solid," Kane said. "We haven't had big plays that helped us previously, whether that be a on special teams or just a long run from scrimmage. That comes from just being a half step away on a block or a half step quicker up into the hole. Those are just little things you need to fix and need to work on."

That is the same thing with being able to catch the ball. We are getting decent protection. The quarterback is putting the ball out there, we just need to look the ball into our hands."

Warriors face tough test against SWC champions

offensive adjustments after scoring 20 points last Friday against Jerseyville.

"We haven't had any drastic changes," Petrillo said. "Our offense is flexible enough that we can change some things with just very little effect on various individuals. We obviously will probably look to throw the ball a little bit less than in the past. We are going to look to control the ball more, similar to what we did at Cahokia, and pass when we want to pass. Jon is capable of doing that."

Granite City, like Edwardsville, will be playing its first conference game. While the Tigers came at 2-0, the Warriors are 0-2 following the loss to unbeaten Jerseyville and a 7-0 loss to undefeated Cahokia, which hammered Belleville East last week.

While the records are opposites, Granite City has made a habit of playing close to Edwardsville in recent meetings.

"We have played Edwardsville pretty well in the past and we have no reason to believe that we won't play them well this time,"

Baker pleased with his team's performance against Vianney important, integral part of this team. He has marked everybody well. He had some problems with Buchek, and it wasn't that Chad didn't work hard, he just didn't have the experience. But he'll get it, he learns pretty quickly."

"Now we have to try to get consistent. We are trying to just go in three-game spurts, put the weeks together, and see if we can arrive at a little bit of progress each week. We are bringing up Chris Gattie from the junior varsity who has shown some things. We need Ian (Kessel) and Josh (Peacher) to play well if we are to get going."

The Warriors beat Alton 6-1 Tuesday night at Gordon Moore Park before returning home to face Collinsville tonight.

Defending SWC champions open '99 conference slate with win vs. Alton

and Peacher let go," Edwards said. "I just put it far post."

Alton turned a run down the left side into a score off replacement keeper Jamie Gavilsky, brought in to give starter Justin Roehr a rest. But Smith quickly regained the momentum for Granite.

Smith followed a loose ball off a corner scramble and headed it home off the line. Senior Ian Kessel incorporated a sweet individual move and a low shot into the Warriors' final score.

"We played pretty well," Edwards said. "We came out to beat them and came out ready to play."

"Richie has been coming on," Granite City coach Gene Baker said. "His conditioning looks so much better, in addition to his skill. His one finish in the first half was real good. I thought Mike came on and played real well. Ian came on and showed what he can do at the end of the game neatly. Josh got a good head ball."

"We are happy with the game. I think in the backfield they have been pretty solid. (Jeremy) Hickam, Phil (Reader), Jared (McMillan), Justin (Roehr) has been very good. Phil did a good job pushing up in this game, especially in the first half."

The Granite boss was happy to open the conference season with a victory, particularly away from home. "It was good to open the conference schedule with a win, especially with it being here," Baker said. "We are happy to get out of here healthy."

The Warriors put their unblemished record on the line Thursday at home against Collinsville. "I've seen them play, and they are definitely a good team," Baker said. "It will be a good early test for both teams. I am impressed with a couple of their backs, a couple of their midfielders. It is, because of the nature of the scheduling, an important game in the conference, and with respect to the conference, we want to do well. So we are coming out to play a good game."

"My attitude is if you respect the other team, you have a better chance to do well than if you do not. I think they have very good talent, and the match-ups will make it interesting as to what we try and do about their strengths and weaknesses and what they try to do about ours."

THURSDAY, SEPT. 9

It's quite probable that you could find yourself far more ambitious and enterprising in the year ahead than ever before. You may even take on an auxiliary project that could provide you with additional income.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If a job needs to get done today, you're likely to be the one others turn to, because you'll innately know what is needed to quickly and efficiently accomplish the task. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Confidential information might find its way to you today, enabling you to advantageously put together a mutually beneficial business package with another.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) People who may have turned a deaf ear to your proposals last week might now be more in tune with your ideas. Arrange a meeting today with those whose support you need.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Step out and move boldly on matters that could have a direct bearing upon your work or career. Today's aspects for such dealings are more favorable now than usual.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You have a way about you today where you can present your thoughts in such a manner that your listeners will think they are the author of your ideas and agree entirely with you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't be surprised today when family members turn to you first when they need help in solving a personal problem. They recognize your ability to provide workable solutions.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You'll be able to make a presentation to others that will gain their allegiance today. You're an especially good salesperson with the ability to sway others in your direction.

Books, and more books everywhere

From the big chains to the smaller shops, business is booming for bookstores.

By April Calvin
Staff writer

Does anybody read anymore? In an increasingly frantic society, of computer games and multi-media telecommunications systems, do people still take the time to curl up with a good book?

A survey of some local bookstores reveals hope for an increase in literacy rates. Business is as good as ever, if not better.

Chain stores still hold a big part of the market. B. Dalton, Waldenbooks and Borders all have locations in Fairview Heights. Assistant manager Pat Dixon of B. Dalton's in St. Clair Square mall, stressed the popularity of talk show host Oprah Winfrey's book club.

"If she's mentioned it, we're sold out of it," Dixon said. "It's a real trendy world out there and we get caught up in it."

Jennifer Magdziak, community relations coordinator for the Fairview Heights Borders, explained how the big chain store suits its inventory to the local populace. More popular genres and sections are fleshed out as customer interest becomes apparent. She said Borders tries to involve the community, bringing in local artists and prominently displaying their work. Even scout troops have held meetings in the store.

Several Christian bookstores operate in the area. Sunshine Unlimited is housed in a small building in Granite City. Owner Carol Canady has run the shop for almost 15 years. After working for 18 years as a librarian at the Granite City Public Library. She said "Precious Moments" is one of her most popular collections, as is the "Left Behind" series for adults.

Kingdom Treasures Christian Bookstore has been in located in O'Fallon since 1958. The current owners, however, only reopened the store in April of this year.

"The response that we had for the reopening was just tremendous," said Cindy Tegtmeier. "I feel it's a service to do the Lord's work."

Kingdom Treasures, like most bookstores, also carries gift items. Its most popular is the "Veggie Tales" characters, who teach children how to treat one another.

Bear, Book and Candle carries Christian, Jewish and other religious literature, along with fiction, reference books, magazines, music, jewelry, herbs and some clothing. Owner Gail Collins calls her collection eclectic.

"It's just a hobby, really," said Collins.

Classes and discussion groups meet in her shop.

The Knowledge Center offers a selection of local authors and African-American literature. Co-founder Edward Hawkins and his wife, Jennifer, have been with the store since its inception.

"We thought that it was a literary injustice," Hawkins said, "that so few African-American books were out there."

Books and Best Friends bookstore aimed at all ages. While owner Donna Flagg carries plenty of adult books, she also offers a broad selection of children's books, toys and games. Children gather after school and in the summer to pore over the books.

Granite City's Village Bookstore has been selling new and used books and comic books for almost 10 years.

The Bookworm offers used books. Helen Costello and her late husband opened the store more than four years ago. Costello said business at the Village Bookstore is steady.

If you're looking for an unusual gift try Personalized Books Inc. Jim Waeltz has owned this Millstadt-based business since 1983. The concept and supplies come from Hefty Publishing Co. Waeltz answered a business opportunity ad and met the man who started the company. After books are pre-written, but your child's name, their friend's names and the child's hometown are inserted into the text for a truly personalized product.

Haven't heard of the company? You may have already received its literature. Waeltz said they mail out about 300,000 a month to new parents advertising the books. They can ship in three or four working days.

In Edwardsville, Piece of Mind Books is owned by Andi Romick-Allen. From 1991 to 1997, Romick-Allen sold books from a house on Buchanan. Her stacks of books leaned dangerously close to toppling over. When she moved into her new location in 1997, she quickly used all the space she had been missing.

In addition to a wide selection of books, heavy with the mysteries her customers seem to favor, Piece of Mind carries a large selection of journals, blank books and unusual cards.

Romick-Allen credits her excellent relationship with other local businesses with some of her success. In search of a particular book, or its accompanying toy, she can call around town.

"I think that kind of networking can also be real valuable to the customer," Romick-Allen.

Theaters across the U.S. packed-em-in this summer

Despite satellite TV and the internet, the season's movies brought in a gross of almost 3 billion dollars

By David Germain
Associated Press staff writer

At a time when the Internet, video rentals and cable and satellite television offer a host of alternative diversions, U.S. movie theaters were still as popular as ever this summer.

From Memorial Day weekend to Labor Day, the take at U.S. theaters was estimated at just less than $3 billion, shattering the previous high of $2.6 billion in 1998.

A record 11 movies have taken in more than $100 million each, and a 12th is expected to join the club.

"We are a culture that likes to get out of the house," said Tom Sherak, head of distribution for 20th Century Fox. "We like to get away from our problems. Movies give us the opportunity for two hours to get out and get away and just let go."

On top of that, blistering heat in much of the nation sent people to the air-conditioned comfort of theaters, and the films were good enough to keep them going back for more.

This summer's films also have had staying power. In summer 1998, movies on average took in 27 percent of their total gross in the opening weekend, said Wayne Lewellen, distribution president for Paramount. This summer, that average was down to 24 percent, indicating films are lasting longer in theaters.

The year started slowly, with movie revenues last winter down compared to the previous year, when "Titanic" was sinking records at the box office. But summer has more than made up for it, pushing ticket sales for the year up 6 percent over last year at this time. The season started with a bang. "Star Wars: Episode I—The Phantom Menace" opened May 19 and became the fastest movie ever to gross $100 million, hitting that in five days. Now, the movie from 20th Century Fox has taken in about $420 million.

Two weeks before "Phantom Menace," audiences got a preseason warmup with Universal's "The Mummy," an unexpected horror smash. And over Memorial Day weekend, Universal slipped in "Notting Hill," the Julia Roberts-Hugh $155 million and "Notting Hill" collected $115 million.

"Star Wars" didn't scare us off," said Nikki Rocco, head of distribution for Universal. "We knew we had two big hits."

Then things got crowded. Between "Phantom Menace" and current box-office champ "The Sixth Sense" came a rare period when a different movie opened atop the box office in each of nine straight weeks.

"It was so competitive that no matter how good you were, you got knocked out the next weekend by another movie," said Paul Dergarabedian, president of Exhibitor Relations Co. Inc., which tracks movie attendance.

"Phantom Menace" was followed by New Line's "Austin Powers: The Spy Who Shagged Me." The Mike Myers spy spoof has grossed about $205 million.

The string of high-grossing wonders also included "Tarzan," "Big Daddy," "Wild Wild West," "The General's Daughter" and "Runaway Bride," Roberts' second comedy of the summer to top $100 million.

The usual late-summer doldrums, when movie attendance usually trails off, never materialized, largely because of "Sixth Sense" and the surprise hit "The Blair Witch Project."

The low-budget "Blair Witch" is on track to gross about $140 million. "Sixth Sense," about a boy who communicates with the dead, has been No. 1 the last four weekends and should finish well above $200 million. The bawdy teen comedy "American Pie" also topped the box office in July and should pass $100 million this fall, making it the 12th summer film to hit that mark. There's still a solid slate of films for fall and the holidays, and 1999 could break the full-year record of $6.95 billion set last year.

"Let the fall begin," said Fox's Sherak.

"We like to get away from our problems. Movies give us the opportunity for two hours to get out and get away and just let go."

Tom Sherak

Grant romance.

Bookending those movies around "Phantom Menace" paid off for Universal. "Mummy" kept going to gross

'13th Warrior' is a joy to watch

Wonderfully choreographed battle scenes make it worth it

Antonio Banderas in a scene from the Touchstone Pictures/Buena Vista release, "The 13th Warrior."

The battle scenes alone make "The 13th Warrior" worth seeing. They are enormous and full of rage, yet choreographed with the delicate artistry of a ballet.

John McTiernan ("Die Hard," "Thomas Crown Affair") has teamed up with Michael Crichton, who co-produced the film based on his novel, "Eaters of the Dead." It's often over-the-top in its mythological melodrama, but always fun to watch.

Antonio Banderas plays Ibn, an emissary of the Persian empire who heads north to Russia, where a band of Vikings kidnap him and drag him on their crusade to fight "a terror that has no name - a terror that must not be named."

The enemy actually is a bunch of guys who think they're bears, dress in furs and live in elaborate caves, but they're extremely angry and have a seemingly endless arsenal. Oh, and they like to eat people.

Ibn, formerly a poet, is reluctant to help out. He's a lover, not a fighter. And in flowing Arab robes, he's a complete outsider among the scruffy, pelt-wearing Vikings. They have little patience for his wimpy ways. When one of the warriors tosses a sword to Ibn and he whines that he can't lift it, the Norseman replies simply, "Grow stronger."

Slowly, Ibn does just that. In a compelling, fast-paced scene around a campfire, Ibn listens to the Vikings speak and picks up on their slang. The camera moves quickly from one man to the next, focusing on their eyes and mouths, until they are all speaking English. Ibn - and the audience - finally understand.

Banderas is quite good as Ibn and his transformation from prissy poet to swordwielding barbarian is a joy to watch. But this is still Antonio Banderas, so there are lots of gratuitous close-ups of his big, brown puppy dog eyes. And, of course, his character finds time to snare a beautiful blonde when he's not fighting the carnivores.

As Buliwyf, the warriors' leader, Vladimir Kulich also offers a strong performance. With his cold blue eyes, he is quiet and powerful and fights the bad guys with everything he's got.

But the scenes in which the Vikings and the monsters clash are the most impressive, especially one toward the end of the movie in which the two sides battle in a driving thunderstorm. The whole sequence is filmed in slow motion, emphasizing both the brutality and grace of the fight.

In another visually spectacular scene, the monsters ride down a hill on horses. Each monster carries a torch, forming a sort of slithering fire serpent.

The enemy actually is a bunch of guys who think they're bears, dress in furs and live in elaborate caves, but they're extremely angry and have a seemingly endless arsenal. Oh, and they like to eat people.

Split decisions

By Kevin Carbery
Staff writer

It is interesting to me how people can be so divided over a motion picture.

Sometimes the split appears to be generational. For instance, I have noticed that in general, older people loathe "Pulp Fiction" and younger people get a kick out of it. Maybe it is because of the rough language or the way the story bounces around, but it certainly polarizes many movie goers. I think it is a terrific film.

Another divisive flick is "Fargo." I have some friends who love it and others who hate it. The people I know from Minnesota, especially, have taken offense at the portrayals of the locals in the film. Again, I side with the group that views the film as a blast.

I am not always with the ones who go mad for a movie. "Titanic" obviously appealed to huge numbers of people, particularly women. When I saw it, I thought it was wildly overrated and since then have found that quite a few other guys agree with me. I still say it takes way too long for the boat to hit the iceberg.

This summer, the movie that seems to have caused the biggest rift among film watchers is "The Blair Witch Project." I have heard some rant against it and know of others who shower it with praise.

All in all, I liked the film. As someone who goes to around 100 movies a year, I get sick of seeing the same plots reformulated in picture after picture. While "The Blair Witch Project" gets repetitive in parts, it is still more inventive than most other flicks. The film does not scare me. What is interesting about it is how three people deal with their fears and each other as they try to find their way out of a forest.

This week's trivia quiz is on movies that most people either love or hate.

Trivia

- Who is the director of "The Last Temptation of Christ"?
 - Who plays the two title characters in "Thelma & Louise"?
 - What movie from 1981 consists entirely of two men talking and eating for the length of the picture?
 - In "The Waterboy," who plays the coach who puts Adam Sandler on his football squad?
 - Who is the first old-time baseball player to appear to Kevin Costner in "Field of Dreams"?
 - Which members of the cast of "The Piano" won Oscars for their performances in the film?
 - What is the name of the computer in "2001: A Space Odyssey"?
 - Stephen Rea and Jaye Davidson star in what controversial 1992 film?
 - What kind of body part is discovered in a field at the beginning of the 1986 movie "Blue Velvet"?
 - What year was "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" released?
- ANSWERS: 1. Martin Scorsese.
2. Susan Sarandon and Geena Davis.
3. "My Dinner With Andre." Critics loved this picture, but, I was never so bored in a theater as I was at this.
4. Henry Winkler. Critics almost always pan Sandler's films, which still make a ton of money.
5. Shoeless Joe Jackson. I thought it was a decent film, but some people went crazy over it.
6. Holly Hunter, who won the best actress category, and Anna Paquin, who won for best supporting actress. The movie did little for me.
7. HAL. 8. "The Crying Game." 9. An ear. The David Lynch film was put on many lists of best films of the 1980s, but is despised by many people. 10. 1975. When I was in high school, my classmates raved about going to midnight showings of this flick. I finally went to see it and was lost as to why it was such a hit.

Horoscopes

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
If you spot a chance for gain today, don't sit on it. Put all the knowledge you've accumulated from past experiences into play and try to tap into that profitable source.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
This is an excellent day for activities that possess elements of challenge or competition, because you'll be easily stimulated by that which calls for your mental and physical proclivities.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Hats off to you because of the way you'll put the needs and concerns of your family ahead of your own interests. You'll do what you can to help insure their requirements are met.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
More can be accomplished today than you realize if you get an early start on projects. Your ambitious and industrious ways may have you embarking on a new undertaking or venture.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Because you have a way about you today for promoting your self-interests without being offensive or selfish towards others, you'll be able to champion a personal cause.

The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

'The 13th Warrior'

Many of the establishing shots are beautiful, especially one in which the Vikings' boat slowly cruises through a calm, silvery sea as dark, ominous clouds brood overhead.

And the music is grand and inspiring, full of pounding drums and huge horns. It almost makes you want to jump from your cushioned seat in the air-conditioned comfort of the theater and join in the Vikings' crusade.

"The 13th Warrior," a Touchstone Pictures/Buena Vista release, was written by Warren Lewis and William Wisler. It is rated R for violence and gore and runs 103 minutes.

New fall films continue a trend

Stronger female roles move to even out the male-domination of years past

By David Germain
Associated Press writer

Susan Sarandon is a flaky mom on the road, while Jodie Foster gets to know the king. Emily Watson pines in poverty, while Melanie Griffith goes loopy in the Deep South. A suicidal Winona Ryder gets shipped to the asylum, while Angelina Jolie plays detective for a paralyzed male cop.

The fall film season is at hand, and it promises an interesting crop of strong, eccentric female roles that range far beyond the Hollywood standard of women as "the girlfriend" or looking to land a man. But it's not necessarily a "to-die-for" season for women on-screen.

Rather, it's a continuation of a gradual move toward more films that present women as real, full-blown people, as opposed to eye candy for male leads.

"Things have changed for the positive," said Diane Keaton, who directs and co-stars with Meg Ryan, Walter Matthau and Lisa Kudrow in "Hanging Up."

"More women are out there in every aspect of film-making, and because of that there's more opportunities for female roles to be more complicated and more independently represented, meaning not attached to a male."

Others are skeptical. Films featuring exceptional women's roles remain a much tougher pitch, said Audrey Wells, who wrote the female buddy movie "The Truth About Cats and Dogs," starring Janeane Garofalo and Uma Thurman.

Wells makes her directing debut this fall with "Guinevere," starring Sarah Polley as a young woman involved with an older man, played by Stephen Rea.

"I think it's definitely been proven that movies from a female perspective can be successful and ultimately very profitable," Wells said.

"It used to be if there were 10 pieces of the pie, men got all 10," Wells said. "Now, women get maybe two pieces of the pie, but they have to compete with each other over those two pieces. I think that pie allotment is a fixed thing."

The slate of roughly 150 films due out before year's end remains dominated by male leads. And men star in most of the likely blockbuster candidates. Among this season's higher-profile movies: Pierce Brosnan back as James Bond in "The World Is Not Enough";

Diane Keaton
Actress and director

Arnold Schwarzenegger battling Satan in "End of Days;" Tom Hanks and Tim Allen lending their voices again to "Toy Story 2;" Robin Williams as "Jakob the Liar," bringing cheer to a Jewish ghetto with faked reports of allied advances against the Nazis; Kevin Costner returning to the ball park in "For Love of the Game;" Brad Pitt and Edward Norton trade blows in "The Fight Club;" Jim Carrey in "Man on the Moon," the life story of the late, bizarre comic Andy Kaufman; and Johnny Depp as Ichabod Crane in "Sleepy Hollow."

But the major studio line-ups promise a number of captivating roles for women. Among them, "Girl, Interrupted," starring Ryder as a suicidal young woman sent to a mental institution; "The Bone Collector," with Jolie as the investigative eyes and ears for bed-ridden cop Denzel Washington; "Anna and the King," with Foster as the "King and I" governess hired by the ruler of Siam to teach his 58 children; "Crazy in Alabama," where Griffith escapes an abusive husband and flees the South for Hollywood in the 1960s; "Anywhere But Here," starring Sarandon as an over-the-top mother who moves to Beverly Hills intent on foisting her vision of a better life on her teenage daughter, played by Natalie Portman.

"Angela's Ashes," the adaptation of Frank McCourt's Pulitzer Prize-winning memoir, starring Watson as the good-hearted but emotionally petrified mother of a brood of impoverished Irish children, will hit the screen.

"She wasn't a particularly heroic person, but she had a very strong humanity," Watson said. "It's quite different from the other roles I've had where the women had fiery or very expressed emotions."

The English actress, who electrified audiences as cellist Jacqueline du Pre in last year's "Hilary and Jackie," said she had been working in films almost nonstop for four years "playing these fantastically interesting female roles."

"Whether that's luck, I don't know. I feel incredibly lucky to be making films, period. I haven't quite gotten over that yet," she said.

Sarandon is no stranger to such roles. In "Thelma and Louise," she was half of the female road buddy team that went on a violent spree. In "Bull Durham," she played a woman who had a large sexual appetite and wasn't punished for them.

She said, "It's certainly healthy if there are more complicated, interesting and less cliched parts out there for women."

The non-cliche category this fall includes Meryl Streep teaching violin to East Harlem youths in "Music of the Heart;" Milla Jovovich as Joan of Arc in director Luc Besson's "The Messenger;" Ashley Judd playing a woman wrongly imprisoned for her husband's murder in "Double Jeopardy;" Patricia Arquette in the supernatural thriller "Stigmata," about a hairdresser who manifests the wounds of Christ; Laura Dern as a woman who helps defend an uncle accused of attempted murder in "Daddy and Them;" Elisabeth Shue as a simple-minded waitress who saves lobsters from restaurants in "Molly."

Anjelica Huston directs and stars in "Agnes Browne," the story of an Irish widow raising seven children; Claire Danes lends a voice to the Japanese animated hit "Princess Mononoke," about a girl raised by a wolf god who fights human encroachment in the forest; Kate Winslet appears in director Jane Campion's "Holy Smoke," playing a Hindu-smitten Australian who turns the tables on cult-de-programmer Harvey Keitel; Annette Bening is a cheating wife in "American Beauty," a caustic look at family values in suburbia.
